

Over 48,000 staff have completed the NHS Leading an Empowered Organisation programme (LEO).

Now you can upgrade this course to a nationally recognised management qualification for just £265.

Specialist learning and development company The Pathways Group, together with the UK's largest management institute, the Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM), can now offer a unique upgrade to completers of the NHS LEO course. Comprising 13 hours of study, four personal reviews and one short work-based report, candidates can fast track to achieve the ILM Level 3 Introductory Certificate in First Line Management.

This qualification normally requires several months of study with course costs exceeding £900. The Pathways Group, with full accreditation from the ILM, can now offer this programme on site for a special introductory price of £265 plus vat per candidate. This includes an ILM registration fee of £62, together with all training and assessment fees.

This programme comprises:

A pre-course workbook setting out the course programme.

One study day on your site with our experienced healthcare tutors, including:

- A short induction to the Institute of Leadership and Management
- A reflection on LEO and it's applications
- Mapped connections to the NHS Knowledge and Skills (KSF) Dimensions
- Two self study Distance Learning Units for completion after the study day
- Full guidance on the assessment process and the qualification criteria

On-line and telephone tutor support as you complete the distance learning and assessment work
